

Building Together

November 2012

Thanks be to God for the numerous churches, orphanages, Bible schools, homes for widows, pastors, and needy church members that God has provided through your gifts to Global Outreach since 1986. These have ranged from a thatched roof hut to the three story 15,000 square foot orphanage and school in Tenali, India. The construction expenses are always funded in addition to the ongoing monthly support we supply to hundreds of orphans and pastors in India, Congo and Thailand. We would like to share some current needs of building projects for ministries we partner with in India, Congo and the Philippines.

India: Pentapudu church and orphanage has been forced out of the home they were renting and are now living and using a church building still under construction. Reverend Thomas has reported the costs to complete the first floor of the building will total $1448. When they are able to complete the second floor at an additional cost of $3905 they are planning to house several elderly widows and care for them along with the orphans.

Orphans who live at Pentapudu are pictured here along with the new church and orphanage.

on land donated by Pastor Jeremiah. The mission teams that visited this summer joined in worship at the church even though a large portion of the roof was missing as well as an unfinished floor, doors, windows, and parts of the walls. A gift of $650 for bricks and $1,050 for doors and windows would bless this precious congregation so much as the rainy season is now upon them. We also need $1995 to complete a home for Pastor Jeremiah and his family that has been under construction since January.

Philippines: Jan and Don Slaton are making progress in the preparations for opening a new orphanage in the Philippines. (See May 2012 newsletter) They have sold their home, and are now fundraising with plans to move to the Philippines shortly after the first of the year. Your gift of any amount designated for Horizon of Hope Village will be a tremendous help to this new ministry initiative.

Growing Hope in India

At the main campus of Feed My People in Tenali, India they are able to grow vegetables, raise chickens for eggs and meat, and use the milk from their buffalo to make yogurt to eat with rice. The village orphanages also grow vegetables, raise chickens, and a few of them have a buffalo that was provided by Global Outreach. In Tenali, they have a baby buffalo which was born shortly before our visit in February. It is gratifying to see the good stewardship of your gifts in meeting the needs of these children, teens, and widows. With nearly 300 people to feed each day, these provisions are a wonderful addition to the rice they eat at every meal.

Thank you for helping feed these precious people!

Sponsor an Orphan in Congo

Earlier this year we started a sponsorship program for the fifty-eight orphans now living at Congo for Christ in Uvira, Congo, DRC. We are so thankful that thirty-seven of the children now have sponsors. The standard sponsorship is $35 per month which goes entirely to provide food for the children. Another option is available to those who would like to pay $47 per month which will also cover the cost of school tuition, a school uniform and shoes, as well as books and necessary school supplies. If you are interested in sponsoring a child you can easily sign up on our website www.global-outreach.net or contact us. Our website has pictures of all the children still awaiting sponsors.
