Ngena's Gift

July 2010

Ngena is happy to share his clothes with orphans in Uvira, Congo

Reverend Jeremiah Rukukuye, who has been working diligently to establish the orphanage in the newly constructed dormitory financed by Global Outreach, recently got an unexpected gift from his youngest son Ngena. As you may recall, Reverend Jeremiah and his family have been living as refugees in Nairobi, Kenya for several years after fleeing civil unrest in their homeland of Congo. Nearly three years ago Reverend Jeremiah felt the calling of God to return to Congo and establish Congo for Christ Missionary Church, Revival Bible College and an orphanage. While the ministry has made great progress, it has come at a great personal cost to the Rukukuye family as they have been separated so the children can finish school before the family reunites in Congo. Recently Jeremiah relocated the family to Uganda where the children are able to continue school and live nearer to Congo.

In April when Jeremiah had situated his family and was preparing to return to Congo, his youngest son,

"I tell you the truth, unless you change and become like little children, you will never enter the kingdom of heaven. Therefore, whoever humbles himself like this child is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven."
Matthew 18:3,4

Ngena, told his father of his desire to help the orphans..."Father, I feel I should send some of my clothes to the orphans in Uvira. I better remain with only three of my clothes." Jeremiah related "I was touched and said yes, and started to watch as he put them together. I was happy to see even my children are willing to help this ministry."

I was moved when I heard how Ngena willingly and joyfully gave from his heart out of his meager possessions. What a blessing that we can also know the joy of giving as we share of our means to improve the lives of these precious children. They are anxiously awaiting the day they will be able to move into their new home. Please continue to pray that the final preparations, particularly supplying water to the compound will be completed without further delay.

School supplies for orphans in India

Summer is over and the orphan children supported by Global Outreach are back in school. In India, before the children can begin the school term, it is necessary to purchase workbooks, notebooks, math books, and assorted practice and exercise books as well as pens, pencils, and other school supplies for the entire school year. Each year this is a large expense for the Feed My People Orphan-ages. Once again, your gifts have helped to supply this need for the 258 orphans in the seven orphan-ages.

In addition to the school supplies for the children, the teenagers who are attending vocational school also require school supplies. Last year there were 164 teenagers in this program. Sixty-one of them have graduated and I do not yet have the current number of teenage girls attending medical training for the new school year.

Education, made possible through your gifts, provides a bright future for these children many of whom had never before attended school. Thank you for your faithful and generous support.

“Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord...”
